Behaviour for Learning Policy

The Principles Underlying the School Behaviour for Learning Policy

The Behaviour for Learning Policy at Stanley High School is a statement of good practice, which allows all students to learn and all teachers to teach. It covers all aspects of the school that contribute to a positive learning environment and school ethos. All members of the school are expected to help maintain an environment conducive to learning of which the fundamental tenets are mutual respect, courtesy and tolerance.

- Warm-Strict (See Lemov, Teach Like A Champion 3.0) – We can, and should, be strict and warm at the same time. This approach embodies clear expectations and not allowing breaking the rules, but expressed with warmth. We can smile and welcome students into our classroom and be very clear about how we want them to come in and begin their work – there is not a conflict between these two approaches.

Providing children with a strong sense of right and wrong

As important as academic achievement for students is, it is equally important that they leave Stanley High School with a strong sense of what is acceptable behaviour and conduct and what it isn't. We want our students to go on to become successful, productive British citizens who make an active contribution to society. Our behaviour for learning practices have an unashamed focus upon insisting that our students are courteous, well mannered, presentable and respectful. We believe this focus upon the development of the 'whole child' is important, as these are behaviours that are needed for students to be successful in employment. We develop these ideas in a number of ways. These include:

- Form tutor period
- Year and Whole School assemblies
- Across the whole curriculum – through careers education and other Personal Development components
- The promotion of British values and equipping students with knowledge of the 'prevent' agenda, Protected Characteristics, and others
- Working with the local community on projects

We want all our students to develop a positive attitude to learning, that will enable them to be successful and provides them with, and have a thirst for, learning that extends beyond what is economically useful and enables them to enjoy learning for its own sake and how it enriches the individual.

We are insistent on good order in classrooms so students can have opportunities to develop

- Curiosity and imagination
- Resilience and perseverance – when faced with difficult challenges
- Ability to think laterally – when faced with new situations
- Team working skills – and developing problem solving skills
- Oracy skills – and capacity to articulate their ideas
- Develop literacy and numeracy skill skills

Aims of the School Policy

- To support effective teaching and learning
- To help all students make good progress
- To have clear, easy, unambiguous guidelines that are understood by all

Expectations

The most important person in ensuring that the school's behaviour policy is complied with is not the teacher or parent/carer but is the students themselves. We will be robust in challenging students when they do not meet their expectations or follow guidelines for behaviour. When students fall short of this expectation we will expect parents and carers to support the school. Teaching staff will help students with their understanding of the policy by reviewing expectations with students at the start of each term at the very least.

Expectations and responsibilities of teachers

A critical part of a teacher's role is to ensure that good order is maintained in their classroom as, without, students are unlikely to make the progress they should do. The Headteacher, Leadership Colleagues and Teaching and Learning Team will therefore carry out regular learning walks to support learning by challenging students who are off task and challenging teachers and other professionals who are not abiding by the school's own behaviour policies. If such concerns arise on a frequent basis, the Headteacher may decide to take further action should she deem this necessary.

For clarity we have included the appropriate section from the teaching standards that relate to effective classroom management.

Manage behaviour effectively to ensure a good and safe learning environment

- have clear rules and routines for behaviour in classrooms, and take responsibility for promoting good and courteous behaviour both in classrooms and around the school, in accordance with the school's behaviour policy
- have high expectations of behaviour, and establish a framework for discipline with a range of strategies, using praise, sanctions and rewards consistently and fairly
- manage classes effectively, using approaches which are appropriate to pupils' needs in order to involve and motivate them
- maintain good relationships with pupils, exercise appropriate authority, and act decisively when necessary.

Any member of staff involved in dealing with a suspected behavioural incident must ensure that the following steps are undertaken:

- Speak to the relevant students/staff involved and ascertain the facts related to the incident
- Weigh up the balance of probabilities before applying a sanction or communicating with a parent. An allegation (unless proven) is an allegation.
- Alert parents of the outcome of the investigation and of any sanction given. DO NOT speak to a parent about anyone other than their own child. If a parent asks what a sanction was for another child or requests any details about them, we cannot provide these.

Guidelines for Staff

- Meet and greet students into lessons by being present at the door to welcome students into the rooms and therefore avoid problems on the corridors where possible.
- Have starter activities ready for students to immediately, so that students entering the classroom are entering an environment that is work focussed from the outset
- Be on time for duties and make sure that we converse with students when on duties.

- Spend time on outlining what the expectations are at the beginning or ends of lessons – and do this consistently with ALL years
- When we challenge a student about behaviour; ensure that it is their behaviour we criticise and not them
- Be mobile around classrooms to let students know it is 'our' domain
- Not overreact or be provocative and ensure that we physically get down to their level and redirect behaviour in a calm measured manner, reminding the students that they are choosing not to follow expectations
- When a student who has been off task returns to work, we should respond by acknowledging that with appropriate praise
- Be aware of our own body language
- Avoid sarcasm, put downs and over familiarity – staff should maintain professional distance
- Remember that we need to be polite and use please and thank you, so we engender some mutual respect
- Expect students to bring the basic equipment for lessons and challenge them when this does not happen e.g. pen, pencil, planner, as an absolute minimum
- Challenge students who are not in correct uniform
- Ensure that any sanctions that we apply are followed through
- Recognise that establishing and sustaining good order in classrooms is EVERY INDIVIDUAL TEACHER'S responsibility and recognise that this is a prerequisite to ensure students make good progress

Management of Behaviour

The control of behaviour and rewards should be principally conducted by the following hierarchy

1. The classroom teacher
2. The department and or Curriculum Area
3. The form tutor
4. The Year leader
5. Pastoral/LT Link
6. Leadership Team
7. Headteacher

With all of these guidelines, applying them CONSISTENTLY is the key.

If a classroom teacher issues a detention or has concerns over a student's behaviour/progress, parents must be contacted by email, phone or letter. All contact details can be found on ARBOR. Concerns should be logged onto ARBOR behaviour module and any contact with home entered onto the ARBOR communication page.

Whenever and wherever possible, it is most effective when the classroom teacher resolves their own student conduct issues.

Whilst we recognise that there will be cases when other staff need to intervene, this should be the exception not the norm. Staff must be prepared to give up their own time and engage in appropriate restorative work if they are to re-engage the student. For the majority of cases, we would see the 'Department/Curriculum Area/Year Leader' as the unit of organisation whereby more serious infractions of rules are dealt with, through detentions and arranging meetings with parents. Only in the most extreme cases, would the Headteacher be expected to be involved. Support and training will be given in restorative justice techniques to help aid teachers and other staff 'repair and mend' relationships between staff and students. In certain cases, students will need extra input from the Learning Support/Pastoral Support Team that may involve input from outside agencies. A simple statement of expectations will be posted in every class and around the school to remind everybody of our ethos and ambition.

Leadership Team Support

On Call system is being changed to reflect the rationale of this behaviour policy. There will be a system whereby Staff can ask for support via a group e mail to the office and Leadership Team. Where possible, a Senior member of staff or appropriate Middle Leader will respond to the incident. These support members of staff will be called to classrooms when there is a critical need for intervention rather than the 'first person you should contact'. It is in line with the expectation that Faculties/Curriculum Areas will be more responsible for dealing with and resolving behavioural issues.

Sanctions to be employed by the classroom teacher

- Reminder – All students reminded of the above, as part of the behaviour system. These posters are at the front of every classroom to ensure all students are aware of expectations.
- Warning – individual student
- Stage 1 – 20 minute detention with subject teacher
- Stage 2 – Faculty Remove +1 hour detention with TLR holder within subject
- Stage 3 – Reflect & Restore (R&R) – Pastoral Supervision
- Serious Breach – LT supervision or suspension – Leadership Team

A List of behaviours by category

Some categories of what type of behaviour constitute poor or unacceptable behaviour:

- Warning
  - Repeated low level disruption in class/corridors
- Stage 1 – 20 minute detention with subject teacher
Repeated Disruptive Behaviour:
  - Punctuality to lesson
  - Calling out
  - Disrespectful to staff
  - Lack of focus
  - Not following instructions
  - Off task
  - Repeated lack of equipment
  - Lack of homework
  - Out of class behaviour
  - Late to school
- Stage 2 – Faculty Remove +1 hour detention with TLR holder within subject
  - Continued disruptive behaviour
  - Truancy – from whole lesson
- Stage 3 – Reflect & Restore (R&R) – Pastoral Supervision
  - Continuing to disrupt once removed from the classroom/refusing to enter another classroom/leave classroom
  - Failure to attend CAL/YL one-hour detention – refer to LT

- Persistent punctuality concern
- Truancy – more than one in a day, or more than one in a fortnight from a specific subject.
- Serious Breach – LT supervision or suspension – Leadership Team
  - Repeated truancy
  - Threatened/actual physical violence
  - Smoking/vaping
  - Serious behaviour incident
  - Previously escalated repeated disruptive behaviour
  - Possession of a banned/inappropriate item
  - Physical aggression towards another student (fighting)
  - Inciting a fight/violence
  - Aggressive confrontation with a member of staff
  - Failure to complete LT supervision (escalation)
  - Swearing at a member of staff
  - Intentional Racist abuse
  - Intentional use of homophobic, biphobic, transphobic language
  - Intentional discrimination towards any protected characteristics
  - Sexual harassment
  - Sexual violence

Reasonable adjustments will be made, to ensure all students' needs are understood, and targeted behaviour interventions put into place. This will include working with other professionals and external agencies where appropriate.

Year leaders will track incidents relating to behaviour and in the most serious of cases a student can be referred to LT if they are considered to be at risk of internal supervision/external suspension. The Learning Support/Pastoral Support Teams can support students with learning/restorative approaches or perhaps anxiety issues and, sometimes, behaviour management strategies.

Regardless of the outcome students MUST receive a classroom teacher-based sanction at Stage 1. If a student is referred to a year leader and, in exceptional cases, a member of Leadership - there must be some dialogue between the classroom teacher and the student before the next lesson to rebuild relationships wherever possible.

Truancy

If a child does not turn up to a lesson or they are late by more than a couple of minutes (without an appropriate reason) then a detention will be set for the equivalent amount of time that they have missed. This can take place at break, lunch or after school.

Failure to attend leads to an escalation to Stage 2.

Failure to attend CAL detention leads to R&R Pastoral Intervention with Year Leader/CAL/Form Tutor.

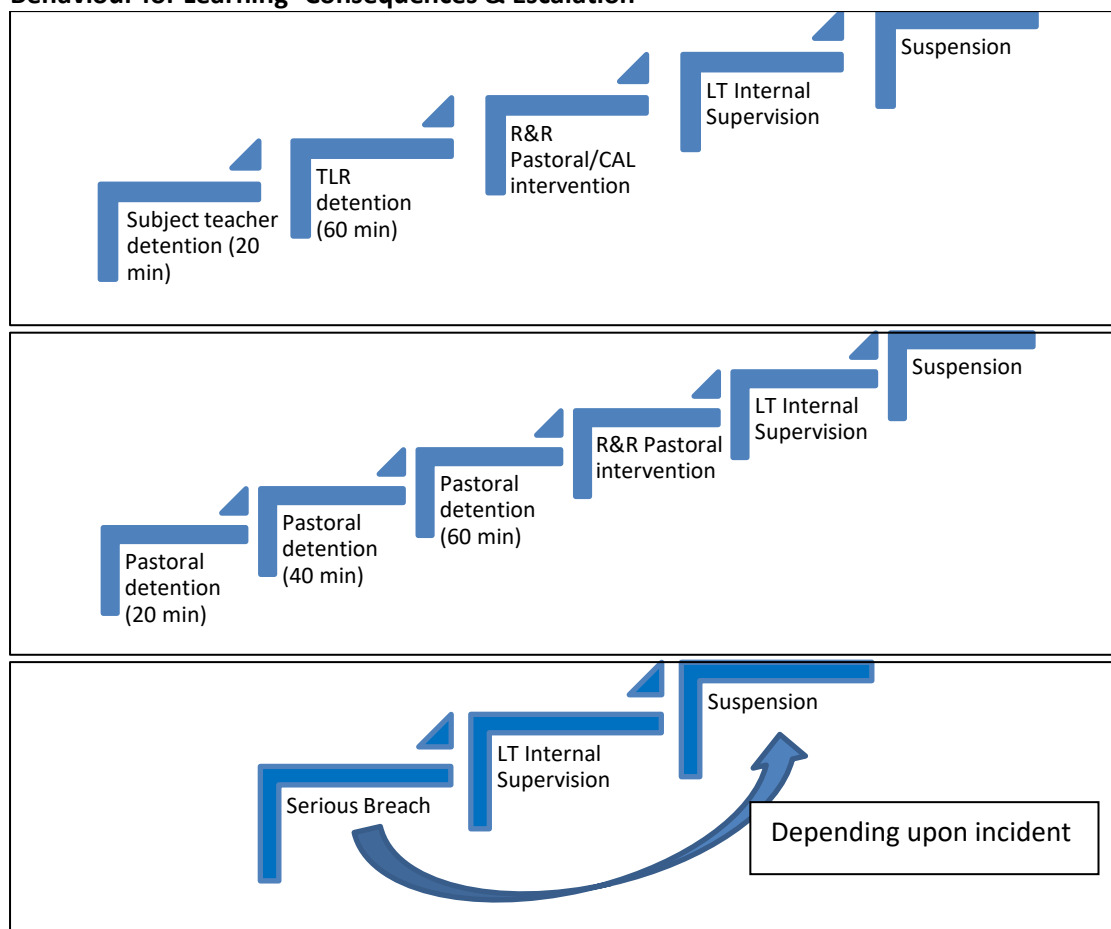

In instances where a student truant more than one point in the day, the Year Leader will oversee the sanction. This may mean that a Year Leader will apply internal supervision straight away.

Extreme Behaviour

There are occasions when students display behaviours that threaten the safety of themselves, other students or staff that may require physical intervention by a member of staff. Obviously, these situations are preferably avoided but if it is the staff judgement that safety is compromised, it is permissible for them to use appropriate force to restrain a student. It is not against the law whatsoever. If they are placed in this situation, they will try to get support from another adult if at all possible. It is stressed that they should avoid using any kind of force if at all possible. For example - do not attempt to physically block the exit of an agitated student who is intent on leaving the room or immediate area, simply inform appropriate colleagues.

Behaviour for Learning -Consequences & Escalation

During breaks and lunchtimes, students whose conduct is unacceptable can access the supervision of a Senior member of staff in the canteen. Students may be placed on lunchtime detention for 20, 30 or 45 minutes.

Lates

Mark as present if student attends tutor time. If the student 'turns up late to tutor time then tutor to mark number of minutes late on ARBOR

- Refusal to attend tutor time/significant late referred to year Leaders for decision on a sanction and/or a plan to improve.
- If students are late to lessons, then the classroom teacher should administer an appropriate sanction. Break or lunchtime detentions can be used.
- Any students that are late after the gate is closed and enter through the front doors, will be given a detention after school on the same day.
- A message will be sent home to inform their parents/carers that they have a detention.
- The students will report to the hall at the end of the day, then can be split if necessary and taken to other rooms.
- The Year Leader detention rota to remain in place for these detentions, supported by SLT if numbers are high.

The detention timings will be as follows:

- 1st time – 20 minutes
- 2nd time in a week – 40 minutes
- 3rd time in a week – 60 minutes

Year Leaders will be on a rota for one to be at the foyer each day between 8:40am – 9:00am to talk to the students as they arrive late, discuss why and explain the next steps.

Uniform

- Morning checks – Year Leaders/Senior Staff - around tutor groups every morning
- 1st uniform issue = warning
- 2nd telephone call or e mail home
- 3rd Meeting – with year leader and or form tutor
- Equipment checks and planner check should be carried out at least once per week.

Searching Students

School Safeguarding staff have the power to search students for prohibited items including, weapons, alcohol, drugs or connected paraphernalia, stolen items, tobacco, lighters/matches, e-cigarettes and/or fluids fireworks, pornographic images, drinks/food brought into school with the intention of selling to others, any item that has been or is likely to be used to cause an offence, cause personal injury or damage to property and any other items banned by school policy.

In the case of suspicion of illegal substances or property, the Parents will be contacted and the Police informed.

Any search needs to have a member of the Safeguarding team in attendance. In extreme cases or cases of non-compliance by the student, the parents will be asked to attend or nominate an appropriate adult (who can be school based) and the Police may be invited to undertake the search. We will liaise with our Safer School's Police Officer in these matters.

As with mobile phones that are used, visible during school hours on more than 2 occasions, any returnable item that has been confiscated, may be collected by parents at the end of the day. Parents will be informed by the school office of any items that have been confiscated that day.

Students on Report

Stanley High School Operates a 4 point Attitude to Learning (ATL) system which supports the tracking of Academic Progress and promotes consistency of reporting across the school. The system is also applied on conduct reports and the ATL criteria are explained in Appendix 1.

Where student's behaviour or attitude to learning warrants, they will be placed on a monitoring report with their form tutor. This will be for a period of two weeks, depending on their successful completion of agreed target(s). Parents are expected to read and sign the report at the end of each day. Parents will be informed that their child is on report by phone call or email. Communication can also take place through the student planner, which parents are expected to sign at least weekly.

If a student is not successful or if their behaviour/ Attitude to Learning warrants, then students will be placed on a Year Leader Report for a period of two weeks – the same rules apply.

Any loss of their report booklet will extend the period of monitoring, failure to meet with appropriate staff, on a daily basis, as directed will accrue further sanctions (usually loss of free time during or after school).

SUSPENSIONS and EXCLUSIONS

Internal Supervision/Fixed Term Suspensions will be considered for behaviour which significantly breaches the expectations of the school's behaviour policy. This can include abuse to staff or students, persistent defiance of school rules and any acts of behaviour outside of school, that brings the school into disrepute.

Permanent exclusion will be considered for actions which endanger the health and safety of others, or when deliberate damage of school property occurs. In line with our safeguarding policy, suspension or permanent exclusion may also be considered where students make and maintain malicious allegations against staff.

These are guidelines around suspension/exclusion at Stanley High school and are not the only examples where these sanctions may be considered.

A Guide to the Law

Only the head teacher of a school or their delegate can suspend a pupil, and this must be on disciplinary grounds. A pupil may be suspended for one or more fixed periods (up to a maximum of 45 school days in a single academic year), or permanently. A fixed period suspension does not have to be for a continuous period. In exceptional cases, usually where further evidence has come to light, a fixed period suspension may be extended.

Pupils whose behaviour at lunchtime is disruptive may be suspended from the school premises for the duration of the lunchtime period. In such cases the legal requirements in relation to suspension, such as the head teacher's duty to notify parents, still apply.

The behaviour of pupils outside school can be considered as grounds for suspension. This will be a matter of judgement for the Head teacher

The Head teacher may withdraw a suspension that has not been reviewed by the governing body.
